

Is the preprocessing and feature creation suitable?

Are the models and methods described accurately?

Is the argumentation for the models used in the case solid?

Is the described model selection accurate?

Is the described model validation accurate?

Is the argumentation for the model selection and validation accurate?

Are the categorical features handled correctly?

Is the estimation of the expected accuracy well described and the chosen method appropriate?

And an overall assessment ☺